Union Makes Point, 50-50 Pact on Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Waterfront unions are ready to resume loading ships with U.S. wheat for the Soviet Union by the end of the week after ending a 10-day boycott.

The White House announced late Tuesday that the unions had agreed to load the wheat after President Johnson pledged that—in all future grain deals with the Soviet Union—half of the cargo would be carried in U.S. ships.

The late President John F. Kennedy had agreed to ship half of the grain in American ships when the sales were arranged last fall. But the way was left open then to waive the requirement.

The 50-50 agreement will not cover the sale of 1 million tons of wheat to the Soviet Union by the Continental Grain Co., because final details of that deal have already been worked out.

Three unions—the International Longshoremen's Association, the National Maritime Union and the Seafarers' International Union—started the boycott after the U.S. Maritime Administration agreed to let Continental ship 62 per cent of the wheat in non-American ships.

In Houston, Tex., where the freighters Ingul and Uman have been idled by the boycott, the agent for the Ingul said he was certain it would be loaded this week, after the Uman is filled. Both are to carry Continental wheat.

Sites Studied for New Tech Schools

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Advisory Council for the Vocational-Technical School Program sternly advised cities Tuesday to include 40 acres of land in their proposed school sites.

The council recommends school sites to the state Board of Education and left the clear understanding that a city offering a 40-acre site would get consideration before one offering less land.

The council voted to accept through July 1 applications from cities wanting schools. It will select four sites, one in each of the four districts which do not now have technical schools.

The 1957 act establishing the program called for schools in each of the six congressional districts. The first school was built in the old 6th District at Pine Bluff, the second in the old 5th District at Morrilton.

The 1963 Legislature appropriated $55,000 for new schools, and the council believes it can build four schools within the next few months with federal matching funds.

Perrin Jones of Searcy was elected chairman of the council at Tuesday's meeting.

Cold Due to Hit State Day Late

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold spell was due to hit Arkansas tonight—a day late. Temperatures predicted in the low 20s this morning failed to develop, and the U.S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock reported minimums mostly in the upper 30s and low 40s.

The Bureau said temperatures would drop to the low 20s in most sections tonight.

Warmer weather is expected in all but the southeast portion Thursday, with the possibility of rain in the southwest section.

The five-day outlook calls for slightly warmer weather by the weekend and cold again the first of next week.

Rain will total about one fourth inch over Northern Arkansas and one fourth to three-fourths inch in the southern part of the state Thursday and again the first of next week.

Don't Drive Like Devil in God's Country

THAT'S THE WORD FROM STATE POLICE JACK Rowell who told an assembly of students at Hope High School yesterday. He was speaking in connection with the Student Council's annual Safety Week.

HE TOLD THE STUDENTS, "You have a unique program of safety here. We of the State Police only wish that more schools would follow your example."

THE HOPE COUNCIL WILL MAKE AN AWARD TO the best driver which will be presented at the end of this week by Chief of Police A. S. Willis. An award will also be presented to either the Junior or Senior class, whichever exhibits the best driving as a whole.

JOHNNY ANTHONY PRESENTED SGT. ROWELL who along with students looks over a wrecked car in the picture. Also on the program were Joe Purvis, Charlie Beard and Fred Ellis.

Experiment Station Plans to Show Tests

The University of Arkansas Southwest Branch Experiment Station will hold an informal program at its beef bull performance testing facility on Monday, March 9.

Beginning at 9:30 a.m., visitors will be able to inspect the bulls that underwent the second Arkansas Beef Bull Performance Test. Each bull's record in the test will also be available.

There will be no auction sale, but many of the bulls will be available for sale at private treaty.

Approximately thirty bulls completed the 154-day test. During this period, they were tested for ability to gain and use feed efficiently. Visitors will have a chance to study the entire testing program and see how it can help them upgrade their beef herds by testing their young bulls.

GP to Ship New Pine Plywood

FORDYCE, Ark. (AP)—Georgia-Pacific Corp. ships its first carload of Southern Pine plywood from its new Fordyce plant Thursday—to North Little Rock.

William C. Norman, G-P vice president, said the shipment opens a whole new field of lumbering in the South.

The shipment will go to Arkmo - Keys Lumber Supply Co., where a ceremony to be attended by Gov. Orval E. Faubus is scheduled.

The plywood is the first to be cut from Southern Pine timber. G-P's pine plywood plant at Fordyce is the first such facility in the South.

Star to Receive Second Round of Orders for 'The Torch Is Passed'

The initial order of 400 copies of the John F. Kennedy hardcover book "The Torch Is Passed" has been fully delivered by Hope Star, and we will now receive orders for a second shipment.

The book is priced at $2 per copy postpaid, a bargain made possible only by the fact that the printers who manufacture it for The Associated Press have already run off more than 2

Sales Tax Don't Apply to Aged

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The Birmingham City Council Tuesday adopted a one-cent sales tax that would not apply to anyone over 65 whose annual income is $2,000 or less.

The new tax goes into effect March 1. However, city Finance Director B. R. Winstead says the exemption makes the tax "wholly unworkable."

Gregory Fined & Sentenced at Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Negro comedian Dick Gregory drew a six-month jail sentence, and $500 fine, appealed it and headed for Boston Tuesday to rally anti-segregation forces there.

Municipal Judge Wilton Steed of Pine Bluff found Gregory guilty of not leaving the Truckers Inn on U.S. 79 at Pine Bluff when asked to by co-owner Ray Watson.

Gregory was arrested and jailed Feb. 17 with William Hansen, a white field secretary for the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee. Hansen was given the same sentence. Both are free on $2,500 appeal bonds.

During their four-day stay in jail, 40 Negroes were arrested in demonstrations protesting the white-only policy of the cafe.

Gregory also was fined $50 and costs Tuesday by Steed for arriving 33 minutes late for his trial. Steed cited him for contempt of court.

The other 40 persons arrested are to be tried March 19—also for not leaving the cafe at Watson's request.

Sex, Party Girls Enter Baker Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The subject of sex and party girls has finally been brought into the Bobby Baker hearings and Republicans have warned it is an angle that shouldn't be "hushed up."

The party girl question was flung into the public record Tuesday for the first time as the Senate Rules Committee questioned Baker, resigned secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, about his business dealings.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., asked Baker whether he had supplied entertainment "including party girls" for various businessmen.

Baker refused to answer. The committee also released a transcript of a Dec. 10 closed door session in which Curtis and Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., argued the committee's authority to explore such matters.

Curtis contended that girls were solicited on government telephone lines, entertained prospective customers and thus were part of the "business promotion apparatus."

Scott said he also believed "the use of call girls" for business promotions was well within the scope of the Baker investigation.

A reporter's efforts to reach Scott for comment proved fruitless. Curtis suggested it was too soon to give all details and there was no comment from the committee's chairman, Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C.

The Dec. 10 transcript quoted this blunt statement by Curtis: "We (the Republican minority) think that every improperity should be gone into, and we think that until it is done the cloud is cast over all the fine men and women working for the Senate."

"Are you suggesting that personal or sexual peccadilloes would be within the framework of this committee?" demanded Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., another member.

"Yes," Curtis answered. "I would strongly disagree," Pell replied.

Curtis said that even if the investigation's scope is limited to Baker's business affairs, the former Senate official has claimed a net worth in excess of $2 million and "this didn't happen just by clever operation."

"Party girls and entertaining were part of the business promotion apparatus," Curtis continued. "The facts are available if we pursue it."

"If this is hushed up," Curtis warned his colleagues, "it will be very, very bad for the committee."

Boats, Divers Seek Plane Crash Victims

By ROBERT H. ROWAND

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A dense fog hung over Lake Pontchartrain today, delaying a search by boats and divers for the remains of an Eastern Airlines jetliner that crashed into the lake.

All 58 persons aboard perished when the four-engine DC8 plummeted into the mammoth lake at a spot about 20 miles north of New Orleans.

The jetliner, bound from Mexico to New York, took off at 2:01 a.m. Tuesday and was climbing normally when it suddenly vanished from control radar screens. Captain William Zeng never spoke a word of warning or trouble and investigators have divulged no clues as to what went wrong.

A Coast Guard spokesman said at mid-morning that search operations had been stalled completely by the fog shrouding the lake. He said: "The fog is so thick one boat can't see another."

Civilian Aeronautics Board investigators called a press conference for 11 a.m. (CST). The FBI joined the probe. A spokesman said the federal agency is trying to "develop any information indicating a possible violation of federal law."

The jet, with a capacity of 126 passengers, was on the second lap of a flight from Mexico City to New Orleans, to Atlanta, to Washington, to New York City. It has 51 passengers and a crew of seven.

By nightfall, which forced suspension of the search, only bits of the wreckage had been recovered, along with what was described as bits of bodies.

A Coast Guard boat snagged something big near the north shore of the lake, which is about 30 miles in diameter, but darkness prevented divers from further investigation.

The Coast Guard said the object might be a main part of the fuselage.

Chances of finding any large part, which could have trapped most of the bodies, seemed remote after reports indicating the airliner exploded. Several persons at Mandeville, on the north shore of the lake and about 10 miles from the apparent crash area, reported hearing an explosion noise near the time the craft disappeared from contact.

One woman said she thought she heard thunder but "there was no rolling after-effect. It was just cut off short."

A young woman said she heard what "sounded like a gun."

A worker on a dredge anchored in the lake said he saw a "bunch of green fire" near the 27-mile long Lake Pontchartrain Causeway, and radioed the Coast Guard.

A veteran Eastern pilot said the jet could have reached a height of some 16,000 feet after it got over the lake.

Secretary to Baker Also Won't Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nancy Carole Tyler, Bobby Baker's striking brunette secretary, refused today to answer questions from Senate investigators, but denied she was "guilty of any legal or moral wrongdoing."

The former Tennessee beauty queen, speaking with her Southern accent, read a statement in which she invoked her 5th Amendment protection against self-incrimination, accused the Senate Rules Committee of invading her privacy, and said its investigation served no valid legislative purpose.

"I pray that the public will keep an open mind regarding me in order to insure that no further irreparable injury results to my reputation," Miss Tyler said in her statement at the televised hearing in the Senate's big, marble-pillared caucus room.

Baker, who resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, also refused to answer questions Tuesday about how he enriched himself while in his Senate post.

Miss Tyler, 24, had been subpoenaed to tell what she knew about Baker's outside business and financial dealings. She served as his Capitol secretary and now is working in his law office here.

Like Baker, she refused to answer questions on grounds of possible self-incrimination, and also invasion of privacy.

And like Baker, she, too, had a big-name attorney by her side. Baker's attorney was Edward Bennett Williams, famous as a defense lawyer in headline cases.

Miss Tyler's attorney is Myron G. Ehrlich, 35, a veteran of practice in the District of Columbia and brother of famed San Francisco lawyer Jake Ehrlich.

IRS Errors, Correction in the Mail

WASHINGTON (AP) — The image of Uncle Sam's tax experts as errorless computers in dark gray suits has suffered a sharp and very public setback. The error was simple but as embarrassing as a teacher adding two and two and getting five.

The Internal Revenue Service has blundered in filing out a form which it advises taxpayers to use as a sample.

Apparently someone copied the wrong figure in one of the spaces where wages are listed, putting down $1,375 instead of $1,025.

This mistake reduced the refund of the fictional couple Frank and Evelyn Jones from about $114 to $33, and pretty much put the rest of the sample return out of kilter.

The IRS has printed correction sheets to be placed in the front of the tax guide, "Your Federal Income Tax."

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The state attorney said today he has asked for medical records on the examination of Sonny Liston after Liston lost his heavyweight title to Cassius Clay Tuesday night.

State Atty. Richard Gerstein said "I have requested the Miami Beach Boxing Commission to make all the records available to me."

He declined to elaborate. Liston claimed his left shoulder was injured in the first round.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Miami Beach Boxing Commission was swamped today with wires from all over the country protesting the Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston heavyweight title fight, which was called, among other things, "a disgrace" and "an insult to boxing."

Bill Glick, secretary of the commission, made this disclosure. Wires had been received from all parts of the nation.

A commission meeting was scheduled later in the day.

Historic Tax Cut Only Step From Reality

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate sent President Johnson today the bill cutting taxes by the biggest amount in history.

Johnson, who has been prodding Congress for speed on the $11.5-billion reduction almost from the day he took office, plans to sign it later in the day and possibly use the occasion to address the American people by television.

The bill cuts taxes of 80 million individual taxpayers by an average of about 19 per cent as well as of 550,000 corporate taxpayers by an average of 9 per cent.

Only the Senate vote was required to complete congressional action on the bill today. All debate in both branches was wrapped up Tuesday and the House cleared the compromise measure 326-83.

Formalities such as preparing an engrossed copy of the bill were completed in advance so that it could be rushed to the White House.

With Johnson signing today, pay checks delivered starting March 4 should reflect the new lower tax withholding rates provided in the bill.

The House passed the compromise version of the legislation Tuesday 326 to 83. The Senate is expected to give similar overwhelming approval.

The bill will bring rate cuts for all of the nation's 80 million individual and 550,000 corporate taxpayers.

The tax savings will average around 19 per cent for individuals. They will be somewhat less for those in middle income brackets, higher at the bottom and top of the scale.

Cites Pay to Negro School Teachers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus struck back Tuesday at "the pseudo-experts and would-be general overseers of the Civil Rights Commission."

The Arkansas Advisory Committee to the commission recently said Arkansas has made "no significant progress" in the past 10 years to close the gap between white and Negro schools.

Faubus said the average Negro teacher's salary last year was $3,495, compared to an average of $3,245 to teachers in 18 counties with no Negro schools.

Faubus also said the expenditure for education of Negroes has increased more rapidly than expenditures for white schools in the 10-year period.

He spoke to the Arkansas Chamber of Commerce Managers Association and praised them as "the original advocates of building a great Arkansas."

Kiwanians Hear About Girls School

Life at the Arkansas Training School for Girls was related to Hope Kiwanis club Tuesday by Miss Carol Burns, Superintendent, who appeared as principal speaker on a program arranged by Dr. F. C. Crow and Fred Gray.

The school, located between Benton and Little Rock, is operated by the state under the supervision of a five-member board. A total of 50 delinquent teen-age girls, ranging in age from 13 to 18, are presently at the school.

Their training includes attending one-half day of school at the grammar, junior and senior high school levels, and also the opportunity to attend a vocational rehabilitation school that affords a new hope and a new view of life.

Facilities also include contact with various social workers of the Little Rock and Benton area who visit the school to provide recreational and religious endeavors as well as counseling for those seeking a better life.

Miss Burns said rapid progress had been made in recent months, but that much improvement was yet to be done at the school.

Secretary to arrived 10 minutes early for the hearing.

The 11th 23-year-old was described by Baker as his cousin when he moved her into a swank four-bedroom townhouse where she still lives. She now works in Baker's law office.

The Rules Committee which Tuesday heard Baker refuse more than 100 times to answer questions put off a decision whether to recommend he be cited for contempt of Congress, punishable by a year's imprisonment, a $1,000 fine, or both.

The investigators peppered the former Senate aide with questions on topics ranging from the gift of a hi-fi set to President Johnson to whether Baker had any dealings with a convicted white slaver.

Baker, who resigned Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, cited constitutional grounds, including the Fifth Amendment, for his refusal to answer.

He also hit at the Senate Rules Committee's probe as a "legal jungle" and an unlawful "legislative trial."

Myron G. Ehrlich, Miss Tyler's Washington lawyer, declined in advance of today's public hearing to discuss whether she would be a more informative witness.

He told a reporter "she will not object to television coverage" of her testimony.

Baker balked Tuesday at television coverage, and the committee ordered the television cameras, as well as still and newsreel cameras, removed from the Senate's big caucus room where the hearing was held.

The committee is investigating whether Baker was involved in conflict-of-interest business deals or other improprieties while employed by the Senate.

The investigation was ordered after Baker, 35, resigned from the $19,600 post after allegations he was using his Senate position to further his private fortunes.

County Farm Agent

By CALVIN J. CALDWELL

Roses are one of the most popular flowers grown in Hempstead county, says County Agent Calvin J. Caldwell.

Here are some tips on raising roses:

Buying plants
Buy your rose plants from reputable sources. Generally, your local nurseryman or garden centers are good sources.

Planting sites
Roses grow best where they have full sunshine all day. However, they will grow satisfactorily if they have six hours of sun and the morning sun is more desirable than afternoon sun.

Time to plant
At temperatures above minus 10 degrees, plant in spring or fall. Container-grown nursery stock may be planted any time of the year.

Spacing of plants
Space hybrid teas, grandifloras, polyanthas, and floribundas about two feet apart in areas where winter temperatures are very cold (10 degrees or below); about two and one-half feet apart where winter temperatures are moderate (10 to 10 degrees); and at least three feet apart where winter temperatures are mild (above 10 degrees). In all areas, space hybrid perpetuals three to five feet apart and climbers eight to ten feet apart.

Soil preparation
If only a few roses are to be planted, dig individual holes. Make the holes 12 inches deep and at least 18 inches wide. Any good garden soil will produce good roses. If the soil will produce good shrubs, grass and other plants, it will probably need no extra care for roses. If organic matter is needed, peat moss, manure or leafmold is good. If manure is used, add about one-half pound of superphosphate per bushel. (Do not use fresh manure.) Perpare soil approximately four weeks prior to planting.

Setting plants
Place a small cone-shaped pile of soil in center of hole and tamp. Place center of plant on peak of cone and spread roots downward around the cone.

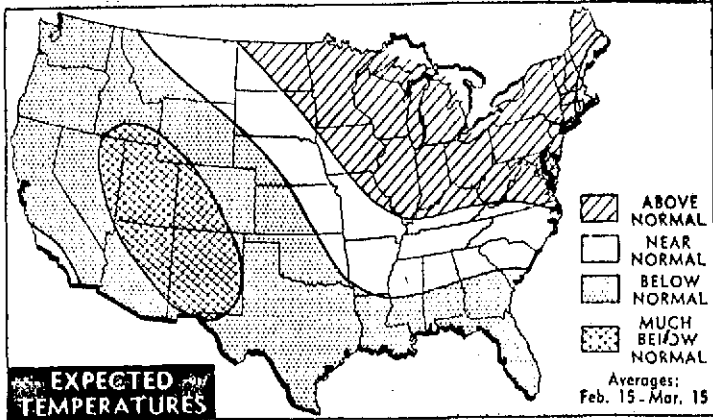

Whipping Sentence Is Commuted

DOVER, Del. (AP)—Gov. El-

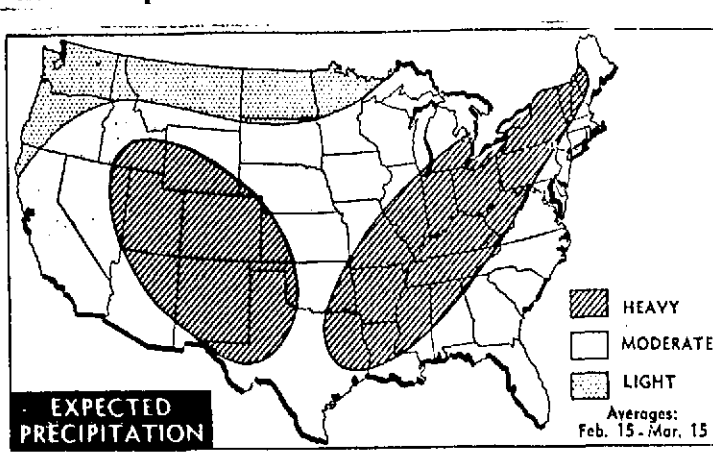

bert N. Carvel has commuted the 10-lash whipping sentence imposed upon Talmadge R. Balser.

Superior Judge Stewart Lynch had sentenced Balser, 41, to 10 lashes and 15 years in the New Castle Correctional Institution after his conviction for a September 1962 robbery. The prison term still stands.

Gov. Carvel said Monday a recommendation of the State Board of Pardons to commute the sentence of lashes "is in the best interests of justice and the State of Delaware and I accept it."

Above-normal temperatures are predicted in the nation's northeast quadrant. Gulf states will be colder than usual.

Precipitation estimate: Greater than normal in New England, the Ohio valley and into the southern plains.

"So what do we do now?" That was Briant, the redhead, again.

"First things first," Gail said. "We dump Turner overboard and then we hunt for Duffey."

"With our cars here, he's already been tipped off."

"He wants to get to Turner. It's his only chance. Herbert and I will go back in the dinghy. We'll drive the cars away. He needs you as badly as he needs Turner. He's got a cop friend in L.A. who drove down to Palos Verdes to have a talk with you. When he thinks you're out here alone with Turner, he has to make his move."

"I don't like it," Briant said. "Do you think I should kill him?" Gail's voice rose in pitch. "I could marry that boy; he'd made 10 of you and Herbert."

"Maybe you should kill him," Herbert said softly. "Dave and I took care of the others—even Charlton, even Solly, even Crismon."

"Briant stays on the boat," Gail said.

"I can't swim. I won't stay here alone."

It was so absurd that if it hadn't been my murder they were planning I would have laughed aloud.

Gail said, "We've got more than $2,000,000, our business, what Herbert's been able to convert. Poor Maggie!" She laughed again. Then she sobered and her voice became hard and incisive. "I could have taken that and taken Duffey when you got so clever. Taking Chet at the rodeo with an air gun. Put us on the front page across the country."

I was still thinking it over when there was a splash on the starboard side. Turner was on his way to the fishes.

They were back in the cabin again, so I crept up on top of it. And there we were, Red and I, eye to eye. Herbert was back in the cabin, and Briant and I were still on deck. I pushed the barrel of the submachine gun farther forward.

His hands rose abruptly over his head. Those pale blue eyes of his watched me without fear. He didn't want to die. His hands said that. But he wasn't scared of me either. He said to the cabin, "We've got company."

Gail was the first one to duck out. She followed his stare and turned her head. "Lover," she said to me. Then she glanced down and spoke to Herbert.

"You'll find a gun in the port-side drawer. Hold it in both hands and shoot upward through the roof of the cabin. We have caught our murderer and will give him to the police."

The redhead began to grin. Time was running out but I took time to aim and shot him through the right shoulder. A .45 caliber cartridge makes a very satisfactory sound. Red lost his grin and looked astonished. It had rocked him, but he did not fall. He pressed his left hand to his right shoulder.

Gail looked as startled as he did.

"Where is he; where is he?" Herbert shouted from the cabin.

"Center of the cabin," Gail said evenly.

I rolled to the left and cried against the pain in my arm. Herbert's first shot left a hole where I'd been lying.

"Shoot me, too, lover," Gail said to me.

I shook my head. "Give me your gun," she said to the redhead. "Duffey couldn't shoot a woman. Not me."

"You do," I said to Briant. "You give her your gun and I'll shoot you through the other shoulder."

He backed away from Gail. With the sound of my shot, sports fishing craft in the harbor had come alive. I could see people on decks beyond the game of charades Gail and the redhead were playing in front of me. She was after his gun, but he believed me. It was a grotesque dance in slow motion.

Herbert showed his head out of the cabin. I shot over him into the deck. He scuttled out of sight.

"To the left of where you were before," Gail said.

I got to my feet. Vertically I made a smaller target for Herbert. Gail was beside the redhead and reaching for the gun in his waistband. I took a chance and put a shot between them. She turned and stared at me, smiling. "I forgot you were a Marine."

Herbert shot again. I knew it after I'd been hit. He was lucky shooting blind, and so was I. He took an inch out of the soft flesh where I sit. It spun me and I let go of the gun. It bounced off the top of the cabin with one wild shot and skittered overboard. I saw the redhead let go of his right shoulder and grab toward his belt. I followed my gun into the sea.

around 15.5 per cent up to 100 per cent for the 1.5 million low-income taxpayers who will be dropped from the rolls entirely.

For corporations, the reduction will average 9 per cent. However, they benefited from an investment credit provision and liberalized depreciation rules established in 1962. The Treasury estimates the overall effect is to cut corporate tax liabilities 17 per cent.

Final action on the bill comes almost exactly 13 months after the late President John F. Kennedy sent his tax message to Congress calling for a reduction in income taxes.

"The largest single barrier to full employment of our manpower and resources and to a higher rate of economic growth," said Kennedy, "is the unrealistically heavy drag of federal income taxes on private purchasing power, initiative and incentive."

Johnson gave the bill an equally high priority after he took over the White House, making it the centerpiece of his economic program.

In a petition filed in Superior Court at Los Angeles Tuesday, Mrs. Cahn said a property settlement has been reached as well as an agreement giving her custody of their children, Steven, 16, and Laurie, 14. Cahn agreed to pay child support.

The couple married in Los Angeles Sept. 5, 1945, and separated last Aug. 15, the petition said.

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's wartime mess sergeant, who dropped everything to campaign for Eisenhower in 1952, says he's going to the same thing this year for Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts.

Marty Snyder, now a New York restaurateur, arrived Tuesday night in New Hampshire, where the nation's first presidential preference primary will be held March 10.

"I did the same thing for Eisenhower in 1952, when he was overseas, just as Lodge is now doing a job," Snyder said. Lodge is U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam.

TORONTO (AP)—Dr. G. W. Williams, 81, delivered his own great-grandson Tuesday.

It was in keeping with tradition. Twenty-one years ago he delivered his grandson, Jeffrey, father of 8-pound, 13-ounce David Arthur Williams, newest addition to the clan.

2 States Pick Republican Delegates

WASHINGTON (AP)—Oklahoma and North Carolina this weekend will become the first states to complete their delegations to the Republican National Convention next summer.

Almost all of the 46 delegates from the two states are expected to favor Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona for the GOP presidential nomination.

Goldwater will be on hand in Greensboro when North Carolina Republicans meet Saturday to pick their state's 26 delegates to the San Francisco convention July 13-16.

The senator says he expects to win at least 24 of the delegates and a state Republican spokesman predicts Goldwater could easily capture all 26 votes.

Goldwater also was scheduled to attend the Oklahoma convention in Oklahoma City, where 10 at-large delegates will be elected, but had to cancel out.

Twelve Oklahoma delegates already chosen in district conventions are pledged to Goldwater and the 10 to be picked Saturday are expected to be in his corner, too.

Arkansan Killed in Missouri
CABOOL, Mo. (AP)—An Arkansas man was killed shortly before midnight Monday night in a one-car accident on Highway 63 three miles south of Cabool.

The highway patrol said the victim, Leonard Howard, 21, of Mountain Home, lost control of his car on a curve and the vehicle ran off the highway and overturned several times. Howard was alone in the car.

Chicago Is Threatened by Negroes

CHICAGO (AP)—Civil rights groups have threatened more demonstrations and hinted of a Negro voter revolt against city Democratic leaders after more than 172,000 pupils missed their classes Tuesday in the second public school boycott in four months protesting alleged de facto segregation.

School officials said 172,350 pupils were absent from classes because of the boycott or for other reasons.

A Board of Education spokesman said the normal absenteeism at this time of year is usually about 46,500. The city's 450 public elementary and high schools have an enrollment of some 465,000.

Officials said the heaviest absenteeism occurred in the predominantly Negro districts on the South and West sides.

Authorities said the boycott, sponsored by the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations probably kept more than 125,000 students from school.

Tuesday's absentees were 52,420 less than the 224,770 who were absent during the first boycott Oct. 22.

CCCO officials, who said the lesser participation was caused by several civil rights groups which opposed the boycott, expressed satisfaction.

Police said some 1,500 pickets marched around city hall and the Board of Education's downtown offices, but there were no incidents.

Police Supt. O. W. Wilson and State's Atty. Daniel P. Ward had said that persons who kept children from entering schools would be prosecuted. There were no arrests.

Duffers Get a Chance to Win
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The duffers get a chance to play today with the elite professionals of golf and get, what one pro calls "lessons they couldn't begin to pay for with cash."

It's the pro-am preliminary to the $50,000 Greater New Orleans Open which gets under way Thursday on the difficult, 7,000-yard Lakewood Country Club course.

The pros will be shooting for small cash awards as each one teams up with three local amateurs.

Only Arnold Palmer and Al Geiberger are skipping the program. The remainder of the top touring pros here will participate, including, —Y. Player, Jack Nicklaus, Tony Lema and Julius Boros.

JUST WHY DO MEN LIVE SUCH SHORT LIVES?

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: I read almost every day in the obituary columns about men who die almost in their prime. I'm most distressed about the short life span of husbands in comparison with their wives because I love my husband, and besides, my children need him. Dr. Brothers, why do men live such short lives? —Vi.

Dear Vi: Dr. Ashley Montagu in his famous book, "The Natural Superiority of Women," goes into all sorts of reasons why women live longer. He traces it physically from before birth.

But from somewhat more study about the question, psychologists are inclined to think that the short life span of men has many psychological reasons for it, too. One of the leading psychiatrists, Dr. Ira Altschuler, thinks this. He says the American male goes to his grave too soon because he keeps his mouth shut, when he ought to be blowing off steam.

He says wives chew the rag over the back fence with neighbors, and the interchange is quite healthy. The tidbit-exchanging wife is both better adjusted, and happier, and will outlast her husband, who rarely has such a confidential exchange.

Agree or not, Dr. Altschuler says all this "between us girls" interchange is needed, and is a fine escape. Even if her husband neglects her, her ego becomes satisfied.

And then, too, she's greatly catered to. As a consumer, she gets constant notice and praise. The woman who wants to live long and happily had better stay a housewife, says this Detroit psychiatrist.

Of course, part-time work is something else. But the round-the-year daily grind—no, he says. The minute the wife plunges into the full-time business world, she catches all the male's ailments — stresses, strains, and more specifically, ulcers.

How should we go about curing this all-too-short life span of males? Dr. Altschuler has a prescription. We should encourage them in small talk, and personal interchanges more. Males have the urge, psychiatrists say, but they consider it a masculine virtue to suppress it. The result: frustration plus hypertension.

That's what one of our leading psychiatrists says. Gossip would be good for men. Their life insurance rates would drop, and there would be fewer widows. Of course, this new idea of talkative males may set you back a bit, but it could have at least one asset. You could chat more with your husband. Right now, their habitual silence, say at meals, rates at least as number three reason why men in general seem to be so hard to fathom. They act differently than we do. If Dr. Altschuler had his way, they'd be a lot less hard to recognize as communicative human beings.

Dear Dr. Brothers: At what age do people lose their sexual urges? —Mr. X.

Dear Mr. X.: Younger people usually feel that elderly people have no interest in sex and that the loss of sexual abilities is a natural accompaniment to aging. Recently a team of doctors at Duke University conducted a study to test this theory. They selected 250 men and women between the ages of 60 and 93.

entered the hospital last week with a heart condition. He is 74. Adkins first took office as governor in January, 1941 and served two terms. He later served as head of the state Employment Security Division.

Another River Bridge Planned

MEMPHIS (AP) — Tennessee and Arkansas highway department officials will meet within 10 days to plan the $30 million bridge over the Mississippi River at Memphis at Interstate 40.

U.S. Engineers issued a construction permit for the bridge Monday.

Tennessee Highway Commissioner David Pack said Tuesday the meeting will be held to settle questions on dates to open the project for bids and to start work on the approaches and on whether to hire an engineering firm to design the bridge.

Target date for completion of the bridge is 1971. It will clear the way for final construction of Interstate 40 to cross the river.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Former Japanese Premier Shigeru Yoshida reported today that he and President Chiang Kai-shek had cleared up all misunderstandings between Nationalist China and Japan.

The Japanese government sent the elder statesman to see Chiang, an old friend, after relations between the two countries were strained by increasing Japanese trade with Red China and Japan's deportation to Peking of a Chinese defector who changed his mind after saying he wanted to go to Formosa.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The United States bolstered President Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalist air force today with more than 30 F104G Starfighters, fighter-bomber-interceptors capable of speeds in excess of 1,500 miles an hour.

The exact number of planes was not disclosed.

LONDON (AP) — The House of Lords mutinied Tuesday night against a government proposal to change the name of the British Admiralty to the Navy Board.

Parliament's upper house voted 65-57 in favor of an amendment urging that the time-honored name of Britain's navy department be retained. However, the House of Commons must approve the amendment to make it effective.

The Conservative government proposed the change as part of a new unified defense setup under which the Admiralty will become a subsidiary of the Defense Council.

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Dr. Josef Klaus began trying to form a new Austrian coalition cabinet today after the resignation of Chancellor Alfons Gorbach.

Klaus, 53, heads the "reformers group" in the Conservative People's party which forced Gorbach out of his job last week in a factional fight within the party. The reformers accused Gorbach of being too soft toward his Socialist partners in the cabinet.

ROME (AP)—Chief surgeons at Italian state hospitals called off a scheduled three-day national strike Tuesday night at the end of the first day.

The surgeons went back to work after Health Minister Giacomo Mancini promised that an adequate retirement pension arrangement would be forthcoming to meet their demands.

OTTAWA (AP)—In the closest shave since it came to power 10 months ago, Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's minority Liberal government survived a Conservative motion of no confidence by eight votes last night.

The motion by Conservative opposition leader John Diefenbaker attacked the sales tax imposed in last year's budget on construction materials and production machinery.

Rowan Confirmed as USIA Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Carl T. Rowan was confirmed by the Senate Tuesday as director of the U.S. Information Agency (USIA).

The approval of his nomination to the post came just after he promised never to show a controversial USIA film abroad without the consent of the U.S. ambassador.

Rowan gave the promise to Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark.

The film, "March on Washington," deals with last year's demonstration march. Congressmen have attacked it as "a weapon in the hands of Communists."

Rowan is a Negro.

Many Would Vote for Rockefeller

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Republican survey in Clark County showed that 51 per cent of those polled would support Winthrop Rockefeller for governor.

Warren Liebong, of Pine Bluff, chairman of the draft Rockefeller for Governor Movement said Saturday the survey covered more than 1,000 homes. It was carried out by members of the Young Republican Clubs at Henderson College and Ouachita Baptist College, both at Arkadelphia.

Forty per cent of those questioned said they would not support Rockefeller, Liebong continued, and nine per cent were undecided.

He said 86 per cent of those polled favored a two-party system, though only ten per cent said they would register as Republicans. Fifty-four per cent said they would register as Democrats, Liebong said.

Blow on Head Fatal to Man

HAMPTON, Ark. (AP)—Earl J. Byrd, 32, of near Hampton, died Saturday of what Calhoun County Sheriff Doyle Duncan said was believed to be a blow on the forehead. Two men have been arrested, but not charged, he said.

Duncan said an autopsy indicated

McClellan Gets a Good Citizen Prize

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Saturday President Lyndon B. Johnson is moving slowly in fulfilling a threefold pledge made last November in his first message to Congress.

The pledge was to economize expenditures, keep up the value of the dollar and maintain top military power in the world, McClellan said.

"I do not wish to criticize the President," McClellan said, "but I think we could move along a little faster. I will help see that he does."

McClellan told a news conference that all the things pledged by Johnson were indispensable to national safety and survival.

McClellan discussed a recent Supreme Court ruling which allowed alleged racket boss Frank Costello to remain in the United States.

The Senator said the menace of crime is one of the dangers facing the nation.

"I think it is a serious situation," he said, "when a man like Costello, with his background, can escape deportation. This encourages crime and many hoodlums have taken comfort from the verdict."

McClellan spoke at the annual Washington's birthday Luncheon of the Philadelphia Continental Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution.

The chapter awarded him its Gold Medal of Good Citizenship.

Instructor and Student Killed

GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP)—James Holley, 17, of Dumas, and James Landry of Greenville, a flight instructor, were killed in the crash of a light airplane Sunday.

Officers said a telephone caller reported he saw the plane going down in a wooded area between the Mississippi River and a lake, about 10 miles north of Greenville.

They had to walk more than a mile to reach the crash scene. The plane burned after crashing, they said.

Gambling Heart Was Unfunny Bore

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Gambling Heart" on NBC Sunday night, an original comedy by the eminent film and television writer Horton Foote, was acted by a skillful company of players. It was given a lavish production. It was a tedious, unfunny bore.

The plot concerned an aggressive mother with two daughters. One was married to a pompous, money-mad promoter. The other was married to a humble owner of a dry cleaning store. The action swirled around some oil stock on which the dry cleaner had firmly gambled all his savings, goaded on by his mother-in-law and the big talking promoter.

There was a tremendous amount of storming around and yelling — but no laughter in my living room — before the dry cleaner took his profits and ran.

If an ingratiating fellow like Wally Cox had played the dry cleaner, he might have achieved some warmth for the character. As it was, they were all brash, harsh and thoroughly unattractive. It was impossible to care what happened to any of them.

"That Was the Week That Was" on Friday night kicked off with a savage satire on fair employment practices, but the rest of the show proved rather slow going.

The spiciest bit of the evening on NBC was a continuation of the feud between the program and Jack Paar whose hour show follows it. Paar is unhappy about the size of the audience he inherits from the revue.

Toward the end of "TW3" a voice announced in crisp tones that "through circumstances beyond our control, the Jack Paar show follows immediately."

Paar came on with his pre-taped show, opening his monologue with more complaints about "TW3" and calling it, among other names, "Henry Morgan's original amateur hour." The rest of his monologue was in embarrassingly poor taste.

In Most Large Offices Today There Is an Organization Called the '25 Year Club

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—In most large-offices today there is an organization called the "25 Year Club."

It probably was created—or such was the fond hope—to boost morale among aging employees of the firm—and to offer living example to the younger workers that, by one device or another, it is possible for almost anybody to stay on the same payroll for a quarter century or longer.

Members of the club take themselves with high seriousness. They like to think of themselves as veterans, scarred by long and dedicated service to the company.

Their veneration for themselves is hardly shared by the youthful employees. These call the club the "Desperation Society," or "Wheel Chair Brigade."

If there is such a club in your office or factory, you might find among its members such familiar characters as:

Mossback Myron—After 47 years in the firm, he has the idea he owns it. If the superintendent even changes the brand of paper towels in the men's washroom, Myron wants to know why he wasn't consulted first.

Opportunistic Otto—As soon as Otto becomes eligible for the club, he wants to use it as a real club against everybody who isn't a member. "Why don't we demand that management make it a rule not to give a merit raise to anyone under 45?"

Good Thing Gibb.—The night they pinned a 25-year button in his lapel, Gilbert took off on a three-week binge—figuring he was at last safe from firing. Now Gilbert's back in the stockroom, right where he started 25 years ago.

Cynical Sid—"This thing and 15 cents will get you a ride on the subway anytime," he says of his new "endurance button." But actually he is secretly proud of it, and shines it every morning.

Grateful Gerald—A lifelong sad sack, Gerald is so glad to have any recognition at last that he would like to wear his 25-year pin in the middle of his forehead. If strangers don't ask him what it is, he tells them anyway.

Disgruntled Dave—He wears his 25-year pin upside down as a sign of silent disapproval of the fact that the firm didn't give him a gold watch and an extra week's vacation, too.

Ambitious Albert—Albert politics all year in hopes that the 25-year men will elect him head of the club at their annual dinner—so that the big boss finally will start calling him "Al."

Editor's Note: We're not sure just where Boyle fits in this list—but he's a 28-year man himself.

Nikita Describes a Rosy Picture

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev says in a preface to a book that if arms spending could stop the planet would be a flourishing garden and the Soviet Union would have the brightest garden of them all.

The preface was written for a book being published in Italy by Giulio Einaudi, Turin publisher, containing the major foreign policy declarations of the Soviet leader.

Real Facts on Viet Nam Untold Yet

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's becoming more of a puzzle than a war.

Nobody in this government, past or present, has given the American people a cold, factual report on what's happening or what's in store in South Viet Nam. Various official statements create confusion.

South Viet Nam, after eight years of help from the United States in its war with the Red guerrillas of North Viet Nam, apparently is losing ground.

This country has over 15,000 troops there, supposedly as advisers although some have been killed in the front lines, and has pumped in over $5 billion in aid.

Here are some points that puzzle Americans and probably Vietnamese, too:

Why haven't the latter done more to win? Can they ever do better? Is this country just going to go on rocking along with them? Will it finally give up and pull out? Or will it try to step up the war?

South Viet Nam has had three governments since October but the situation is worse now than before.

President Ngo Dinh Diem, who was in charge eight years but not successfully, was killed when a military junta took over in a coup. The junta was thrown out in a new coup by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

Last Jan. 27 Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told Congress the situation was "grave." The next day he said "I am encouraged by the progress of the past two weeks."

Last week Congress released more of what he said: That even if the war does not go well we should still withdraw most American troops by 1965. He said the Vietnamese had the primary responsibility for winning the war.

Over the weekend one report from Washington said there was division between the Defense Department and the State Department on what to do. It said some State Department officials felt McNamara's statement on pulling out was bad public relations because it might encourage the Communists.

Also last week Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democrats' Senate leader, applauded McNamara's pull-out idea and urged consideration of French President Charles de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize Viet Nam.

Neutralization has hazards, too. It could be interpreted simply as an American face-saving device for pulling out of a tough situation. Neutralization, once the Americans were gone, might open the door for a Communist take-over of all Viet Nam.

Then last Friday President Johnson said this country will continue to honor its commitment to South Viet Nam to help

No Opposition in South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Foreign Minister Hilgard Muller won a seat in Parliament Monday in the constituency long held by his predecessor, Eric Louw, who retired last year.

Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's National party is so strong in the district that no opposition party presented a candidate.

Jacksonville Cites Perils of Housing

JACKSONVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Mayor John H. Harden told the Jacksonville city council Monday night completion of a 235-house subdivision for military personnel would "kill housebuilding" in the city.

Harden said the subdivision would be 90 per cent federally financed and would be integrated.

The city was lead to believe earlier, he said, that federal funds would not be involved and that sales and rentals of the homes would be left to civilians.

P. W. Dupree Jr., told the council he was on a committee that was told by a Federal Housing Administration official the subdivision would be integrated but occupants of other rental property in the city would not be "drafted" to the it fight communism. Previously he had seemed to dismiss De Gaulle's neutralization idea but at another time he said he would look with sympathy on neutralization of all Viet Nam, North and South.

But Johnson added something else which was truly a puzzle. Pointing to those "outside enemies" who direct "terror and violence" against South Viet Nam, he said they "could do well to remember that this type of aggression is a deeply dangerous game."

But this is exactly the kind of aggression the North Vietnamese Reds have been using for years, except that recently they began assassinating Americans, too.

Was Johnson hinting at stepping up the war against North Viet Nam in some way, say through South Vietnamese guerrilla attacks on it? Or what? If the United States took part in a direct attack it might mean war with Red China.

Harden said he was told that the commander of the Little Rock Air Force Base would certify occupants to the homes. The $2,750,000 project is to be built on a 60-acre tract northwest of the city.

Harden said an FHA official told him Sunday that if he "had known two months ago what he knew now about the abundance of rental property at Jacksonville, he wouldn't have approved the project."

Harden was to discuss the matter further with the base commander today.

Clay, Liston Set Stage for a Second Bout

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Cassius Clay, the fascinating Louisville blowhard who proved his fists talk as loud as his words is the new king of the heavyweights and the boxing world still buzzed today over the bizarre events that led to the de-thronement of the champion who couldn't lose, Sonny Liston.

The bull-strong, tiger-mean Liston yielded his crown while slumped ingloriously in his corner between the sixth and seventh rounds, blood gushing from a gash under his left eye and his left shoulder in severe pain.

It went into the books as a seventh round technical knockout—one of the most astounding ring upsets of all time but one that left the millions of fans pondering unanswered questions.

How did it happen? When did it happen? Why didn't Liston, the awesome ring killer, demolish the loquacious Kentuckian as he had done to his other rivals in the last three years?

Liston was rushed to the St. Francis Hospital where eight physicians subjected him to a 3½ hour series of X-rays and other examinations.

The group issued a statement which said the champion had suffered an injury of the left shoulder which prevented him from defending himself.

The statement said there was a "separation and a tear of muscle fibers" with some bleeding, but gave no other details.

Liston, dressed in a red shirt and slacks, pushed his way out of the hospital without comment. His aides said he planned to go to his Miami Beach temporary home and would make no statement immediately.

His purse from the gate attendance had been ordered held up by the Miami Beach Boxing Commission pending outcome of the doctors' examination.

Jack Nilon, the ex-champion's adviser, said Liston wrenched his shoulder in training but that the two of them decided to try to bluff their way through "because we thought we could get away with it."

Nilon pointed out that Liston stopped boxing six days before the fight but others recalled that Sonny showed no signs of an ailment in other phases of training and even declared himself "in the best shape ever."

This was just one of the many contradictory aspects of the bout, which was a financial flop at the gate with 8,000 paying only $400,000 for the privilege of watching — half of the figure needed to break even.

Clay, the exultant, hysterical and almost berserk new champion, himself sought to erase any stigma from his spectacular victory even before any had been officially cast.

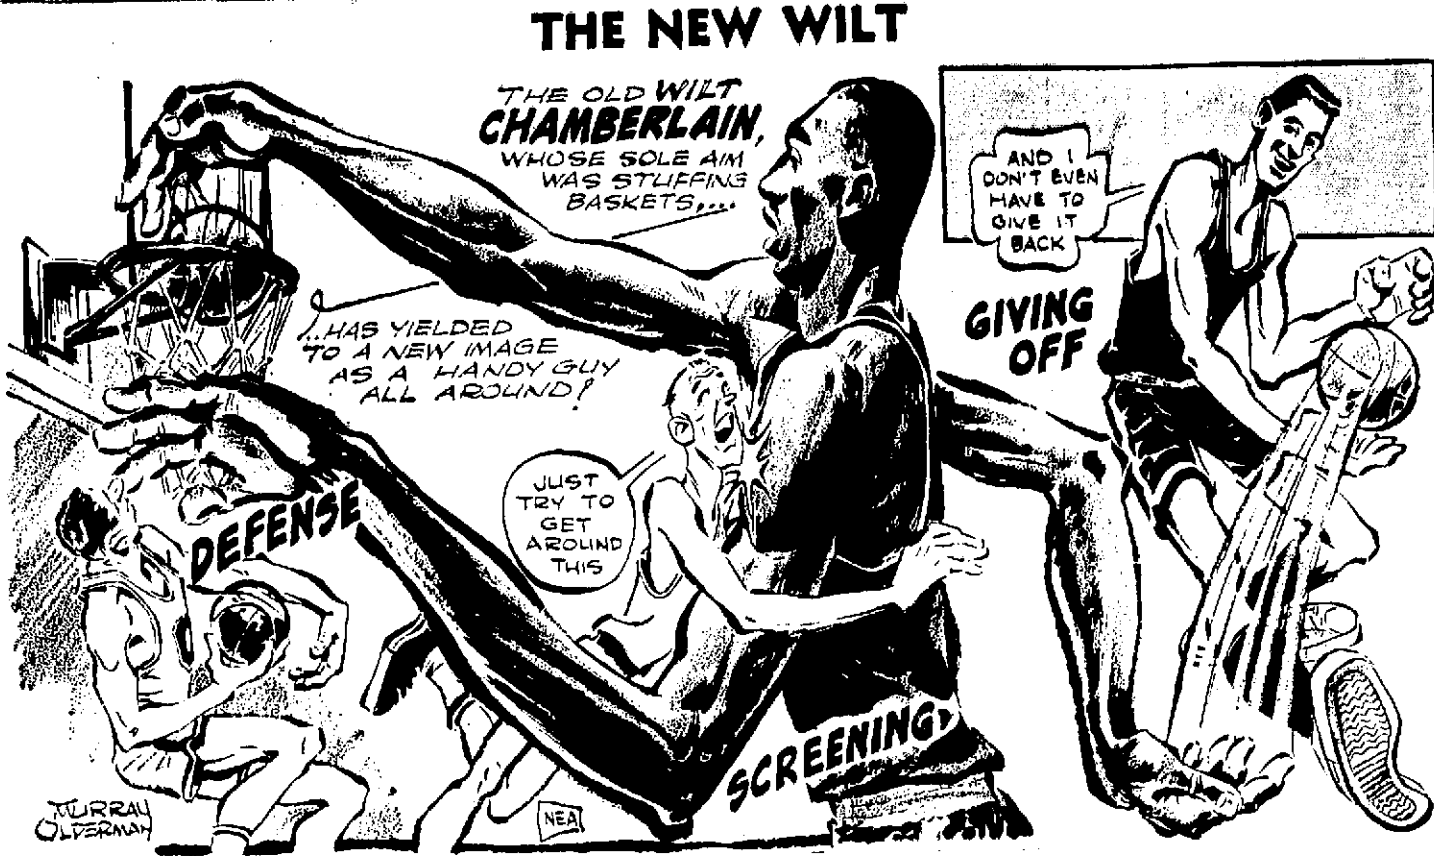

Unsettled by the ringing boos that rocked the arena, he screamed to all within earshot: "This was no fix. I closed both of my eyes. He didn't touch me. I didn't stop the fight. The doctors did."

Seasoned boxing writers, accustomed to all sorts of weird occurrences in this sometimes sordid sport, were seeking answers to questions which they said left them befuddled.

Why wasn't Liston, the sullen destroyer who twice put away former champion Floyd Patterson in the first round, able to unleash the same devastating punching power on the fast but supposedly vulnerable Clay?

In the fifth round, when Clay came out at the bell blinking and groping his way around the ring, as if half-blinded, why wasn't the despoised champion able to nail him with his fistful of dynamite?

Even if his shoulder was painful, why didn't Liston, a brute of a man, try to bull his way through, waiting for perhaps a lucky punch, against a fighter renowned as a powder-puff hit-

Spike Nail Heads Spa Feature Race

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Quick-starting Spike Nail heads a field of nine 3-year-olds in the $3,800 Glenwood Purse today at Oaklawn Park.

Entries in the 5½ furlong claiming event carry prices from $12,000 to $15,000.

C. O. Viar's Spike Nail drew topweight of 119 pounds. Finder's Fee and Floral Shop finished ahead of Spike Nail in the Whishing Well Purse, but Spike Nail flashed early speed before falling back.

Ronnie Campbell will ride the colt, who was unplaced in the $10,000 Hot Springs Handicap.

Newell Stable's Miss Betty Ann will carry 117 pounds. Gible and Wilson's Road Chipper and an Everett Lowrance entry composed of Miss Amarullah and Miss Jr. could also be stout contenders.

Others in the field are F. C. Powell Jr.'s Page Book, Live Oak Stable's Black Willi, Winston Neil's Dancy Brave and R. F. McClung's Bound Twist.

In action Tuesday, Missile Miss took a three-quarter length victory in the featured $4,500 purse, running 5½ furlongs in 1:05 flat.

Young G. G. Boys Stop to See Big Fight

By JACK MARTIN

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The young fighters in the 1964 National Golden Gloves Tournament took a day off today. One defending champion remained in the running. Another is fighting this year in a different division.

The three-ring action in Freedom Hall ended last night after another first round knockout by William Douglas, defending 160-pound champion from Columbus, Ohio, and an upset victory by Jesse Valdez of Fort Worth over Wade Smith of Muncie, Ind., defending the 147-pound title.

Tuesday night's card was shortened to permit showing of a closed-circuit telecast of the Sonny Liston - Cassius Clay heavyweight bout. The Glovers saw it as guests.

In team standings, Fort Worth kept the lead with nine points, followed by Omaha, Neb., and Roswell, N.M., with eight. Billings, Mont., Denver, Cincinnati and St. Louis have seven each. Harley Cooper of Omaha, last year's winner in the heavyweight division, is fighting this year in the 175-pound class. He advanced Monday night by out-

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist allowed Arkansas only a tie after the first two minutes of action and romped over the Razorbacks 86-71 in a Southwest Conference basketball game.

Gene Elmore, the Mustangs' captain, hit 21 points and grabbed 17 rebounds. Warren Vogel led Arkansas with 16 points.

SMU led after the first two minutes, but Arkansas pulled into a 15-15 tie with 7:48 left in the first half. Then the Mustangs grabbed the lead for keeps.

Late in the first half, SMU moved 11 points in front when Arkansas went more than four minutes without a basket.

'Greatest,' Screams the New Champ

By BEN FUNK
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — For maybe the millionth time, he opened his mouth wide and screamed, "I am the greatest," but now no good-natured guffaws came back at Cassius Clay — only applause.

The Louisville Lip, who had been regarded by many as more of a comedian than a fighter, had just pulled one of the most stunning ring upsets of all time by stopping Sonny Liston, the brutish heavyweight champion, on a seventh round technical knockout.

And the handsome Clay was hysterical with excitement as he walked into an interview room to talk with newsmen. Most of them had picked Liston to knock out the young challenger in an early round. Some even called the match a hoax.

"I just played with him," Clay bellowed, and this time his words were not those of a ballyhoo artist, but a real champ.

He seemed close to tears of joy.

He belittled the ex-champ who, until Tuesday, had been considered one of the most terrifying fighters ever to climb into a ring.

"That ugly old bear never got in a good lick," laughed Clay, a seemingly hopeless underdog who had befuddled the ominous Liston with his dancing ring style, drained him of his confidence, and beat him four rounds out of six before Liston quit with a shoulder injury.

"If he wants a rematch, he can have it, but I don't think he's gonna want it."

"He was such an amateur he ought to have to work his way back up. I want Doug Jones and Eddie Machen."

From the ring where he scored his remarkable triumph, boxing's wonder boy went directly to his dressing room for a wild, tearful greeting by members of his family and his associates. When the bedlam quieted, he went to meet reporters unshowered and wearing his ring robe.

Still shaken with emotion, Clay called out:

"Look at me! I'm still pretty! But Liston's face is burning! I hurt him so bad he had to go to a hospital."

Efforts were made to ask him questions, but it was impossible to get a word in as he jabbered on.

"You reporters made it hard on me," he cried. "Never make me an underdog. Nobody but a fool would want to fight me."

"And you can't call it affix," he added. "I didn't stop it. The doctor did."

"Who is the greatest?" he called. After the question had been repeated three times, some newsmen chimed in to his satisfaction, "You are!"

Several times, Clay walked away from the microphone, but he kept coming back, wanting to get some more steam out of his system.

He hooted at a Miami Beach Boxing Commission doctor's report that he was "scared to death" when he put on a frantic show at the weigh-in.

"I wasn't scared," he shouted.

Calumet Tries for a Stake

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Calumet Farm, which hasn't won a stakes event in many months, tries today with Princess Arle in the $50,000-added Black Helen Handicap and just might take the winner's share of $39,455.

Princess Arle carries 112 pounds in the 1½ mile midweek feature, including jockey John L. Rotz, second in jockey standings at Hialeah, and probably will be second choice to Mrs. R. L. Reineman's Smart Deb, the 6-5 favorite.

Smart Deb, packing top weight of 122 pounds with Bill Hartack, will be conceding her eight opponents from seven to 12 pounds but she won the Matron Handicap at the Black Helen distance last year and the Beaugay. She also won the recent Columbiana at seven furlongs and appears best at a mile or less.

Perry's Team Downs North Heights Five

In the Fouke independent basketball tournament, going on this week, Perry's Truck Stop defeated North Heights of Texarkana, 93 to 59.

David Brown and Delton Lafield hit 24 each, Wayne Loe 14 and Brint Odum 13 for Perry's.

Jerry Norton made 26 and Glendon Spears 13 for North Heights.

Friday night at 8:15, Perry's takes on Red River Arsenal of Texarkana in the semi-finals.

Reds Pick Up Echo Signals

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet scientists reported Tuesday they are getting radio signals via the U.S. Echo 2 satellite better than ever.

The signals originate with the radio center at Jodrell Bank, England, and are bounced off Echo 2. The first signals were received here last Friday night.

Africans Meet For Secret Talks

Lagos, Nigeria (AP) — The foreign ministers conference of the Organization of African Unity tackled a 23-point agenda Tuesday in its first full day of secret talks.

High on the list before the 300 delegates from 33 countries is consideration of a defense committee report on establishing an African high command.

Fight Results

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Cassius Clay, 210½, Louisville, Ky., stopped Sonny Liston, 218, Denver, Colo., 7. Clay wins heavyweight title.

ed. He didn't need to say this to newsmen who had seen him look straight into Liston's cobra-like stare when they first faced in the ring, then go so far as to clown with the champion at times, with his arms straight down at his sides.

"Who was scared?" he called. "I am the king. I can fight forever. I can waste eight rounds of energy at a weigh-in and still win."

Few Realized Upset Was in the Making

NEW YORK (AP) — "Stay away from him, Cassius, baby," someone yelled in the first round when Sonny Liston advanced menacingly on Cassius Clay.

A few seconds later, after Clay had avoided numerous Liston lunges and countered with a series of left-right combinations, the same fan bellowed: "You can do it, baby. You can do it."

The action in the first round set a tempo, but the audience which watched the theater-television of the heavyweight title bout at the Paramount Theater on Broadway Tuesday night found it difficult to believe they were watching the boxing upset of the century.

And the sudden ending caught everyone by surprise. There was no announcement, just the sight of Clay leaping up and down in the middle of the ring. In fact it wasn't until long after that Joe Louis, the former champion who helped Steve Ellis at the mike, announced that Liston had suffered a shoulder dislocation.

Although he completely out-classed Liston in the first round the feeling in the theater was that "the Big Bear," would eventually catch up with Clay who had been described at the weigh-in as a "man scared to death."

The fact that an upset was in the making began to sink in during the third round when Clay's jabs and combinations opened a cut under Liston's left eye.

"I think Clay is surprising the world," Louis' comment after the fourth round, brought a roar of assent from those present.

In the next two rounds Clay made Liston look clumsy as he easily avoided Sonny's rushes and kept his left hand poking into Sonny's face.

"I think Sonny is beginning to worry now," remarked Louis after the sixth round ended and just seconds before the unexpected ending.

"I whopped him, I whopped him," exulted Cassius into the theater-TV mike. "I am the greatest. I was setting him up for the eighth round, just as I promised, when they stopped it."

It didn't seem to matter that a minute later he remarked to Ellis: "I told you it would be the seventh, didn't I, Steve?"

"Yes, you did," replied Ellis, adding to the TV audience "that's right, folks. He did tell me the seventh."

"He called it a mismatch," Clay raved on, referring to Liston. "He ought to apologize."

"I'm a bad man," were his last words to the TV audience.

Liston, who before the fight had been quoted as saying "Clay is just a little kid who needs a spanking," and predicted he would do that in three rounds, did not appear on the screen. He left the ring for a hospital to have his shoulder examined.

The picture at the Paramount came in sharp and clear from the Convention Hall setup in Miami Beach.
